

News and Services of the Hekman Library -January, 2010

Out with the Old, In with the New: New Library Search Tool

Beginning in January 2010, Hekman Library has a new search tool called Evergreen, which replaces our previous catalog, WebCat. We're excited about the new search options and interface, but we know that it may take some adjustment for us all! Check out this new tool yourself on the library's home page, and if you need any assistance, just ask any librarian or staff member.

Curious about where your friends or classmates are traveling for Interim?

Whether it's Cambodia, Jordan, Costa Rica, China, or Ethiopia, we have databases covering international affairs:

PAIS International and PAIS Archive

Since its establishment in 1914, the Public Affairs Information Service (PAIS) has chronicled issues in the public debate through highly selective coverage of a wide variety of sources. The PAIS International database with the PAIS Archive provide historical perspective on many of the 20th century's public and social policies.

EUROPA WORLD PLUS

Europa World Plus incorporates the full text contents of some of the Europa World Year Book and the eight Europa regional surveys. This database provides authoritative and current analytical information about countries and international organizations. Country overviews include historic, economic, trade, and political information.

Go to Library homepage -> Research Databases to access these resources.

January Series

Staying on campus during January? The library has a variety of books written by this years speakers. Below is just a sample of the many choices available to you at the Hekman Library:

Gross national happiness : why happiness matters for America--and how we can get more of it
Arthur C. Brooks.

BF575.H27 B76 2008

Desiring the kingdom : worship, worldview, and cultural formation

Smith, James K. A.

BV178 .S63 2009

Left to tell: discovering God amidst the Rwandan holocaust

Ilibagiza, Immaculée

REC READING

Blood brothers

Chacour, Elias

DS113.7 .C49 1984

SNOW AT NIGHT

Augusta Wray

The snow falls like ghost-stars and lights the pines
With a pale luminosity that sheds
A radiance over the quiet woods.
It clings to the fringed branches with fingers
Soft as silence. No life nor any sound
Disturbs the scene, only the falling stars
Of snow, weaving a thick, warm, white blanket
To spread over the cold arms of the trees,
Outstretched as if to hold back the crouching
Darkness of the night; the frozen crystals
Glow calmly, without substance or shadow,
Until a white shroud blots out the landscape.