2ND ANNUAL HEKMAN LIBRARY BOOKS IN THE BAKING EDIBLE BOOK FESTIVAL

On Friday, April 1, the library will hold its second annual Books in the Baking Edible Book Festival (no fooling!). Members of the college and Grand Rapids community are encouraged to put their creativity to the test and enter “books” made from food items. All “books” must be made of edible ingredients, with a list of those ingredients accompanying the entry, using proper food safety and handling. It can be a pun on a title, refer to a scene or character, look like a book, or just have something to do with books. Whatever the inspiration—it must be edible!

PRIZES will be awarded in five categories. Winners will receive gift certificates to the Calvin Campus Store, and all who enter will get a gift bag.

Registration forms and a list of book ideas are available at the library’s Research Assistance Desk (2nd floor). For more information, contact Lois Dye (ldye@calvin.edu).

? Your Questions - Our Answers ?

Why can some articles from the library’s research databases be downloaded only by professors or librarians? As a student, how do I get access to those articles?

What you’re encountering is the library’s “Elsevier Article Service.” Elsevier is a highly respected scholarly publisher in the sciences, but its journals are very expensive. Rather than subscribe to only a limited number of Elsevier journals, the library subscribes to a service that provides access to all 1,800 Elsevier journals for a per article download cost of $22. We manage the budget for this service by limiting log-in access to Calvin faculty and the librarians.

If you encounter one of these articles, please review the abstract carefully to determine its relevancy for your research. If you decide you need the article, simply contact a librarian, either in person at the 2nd floor Research Assistance Desk or via e-mail. Provide the librarian with the full article citation, and we will download it for you (usually right way, or within the day).
